Social Communication Curriculum (SCC): SCC is designed to teach social communication skills to learners who benefit from direct teaching. We cover the complete range of skills from basic to more advanced. Our lessons are written in a developmental order and progress through the units. Units are composed of video lessons, web games, and interactive activities. Professionals who would use this the most are speech-language pathologists, BCBA's, SPED teachers, school psychologists or social workers.

Social-Emotional Learning Curriculum (SEL): The SEL curriculum is designed for any student in a class setting to gain a more in-depth understanding of social-emotional skills. These are important skills that all students can benefit from. Professionals who would use this the most are general ed teachers, special education teachers, guidance counselors, school psychologists or social workers.
